

HIS SPINE SNAPPED
BY THE PLUNGE

CAPTAIN WEBB, THE SWIMMER, IS DEAD.

Fourth of July Rush Down a Coeur d'Alene Flume Proves Fatal—How Independence Day Was Observed in Various Cities About the Country.

Coeur d'Alene, N. D., July 5.—Captain Paul Webb, the swimmer, lost his life yesterday, in an attempt to ride down a mining flume in a barrel. The barrel jumped out and he struck the ground breaking his spine.

Chicago, July 5.—Vice-President Stevenson, Gov. McKinley and great labor leaders addressed every state in the Union and a large part of Chicago besides, yesterday, from the platform in Sharpshooters' park. There was an immense attendance, and the utmost enthusiasm was manifested, both the great political leaders being given cordial receptions. The day in this city was otherwise spent in the usual way, picnics and sports of all kinds being indulged in. The usual list of minor casualties due to premature explosion of fireworks are reported.

AT NEW YORK.

Tammany Celebrates the Day with a Great "Pow-wow."

New York, July 5.—Independence day was celebrated by the Tammany society in a manner commensurate with former celebrations since the founding of the Columbian order 119 years ago. There was no diminution in the enthusiasm manifested by those present, although the audience was smaller than in previous years. Ex-Gov. James E. Campbell of Ohio and ex-Gov. Thomas M. Waller, were in Tammany parlance, "the long talkers," while well-known men from all parts of the country delivered "short talks." One feature of the celebration was the reading of letters from President Cleveland, Senator Hill, ex-Gov. Flower, Frederick R. Couderc and other distinguished democrats.

RAIN AT PHILADELPHIA.

Events Somewhat Spoiled by the Fall of Water.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 5.—This city, as usual, celebrated the Fourth of July in the good, old-fashioned way. In the morning at 9 o'clock appropriate exercises were held at Independence hall under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Society of the Sons of the Revolution. In Fairmount park in the morning the First Brigade, N. G. P., engaged in a sham battle, during which 40,000 rounds of ammunition were expended in a grand exemplification of the new battle tactics. After the smoke of battle lifted the belligerents passed a peaceful review before Mayor Warwick. The sky was overcast most of the time and a heavy rain fell during the afternoon, which caused the postponement of the proposed $8,000 fireworks display until to-night.

Sham Battle at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., July 5.—Independence day at Camp Hancock was ushered in by the firing of the national salute. Early in the morning the artillery contest for $3,000 in prizes began, and while this was proceeding there were exhibition drills by various companies. Several concerts were held, and these with the other attractions, brought out an immense crowd of people, who remained throughout the day and viewed the sham battle, dress parade and display of fireworks. All the troops in camp engaged in the battle, in addition to the entire first regiment of infantry, National Guard of Missouri, battalion of cadets and the two troops of United States cavalry.

America's Day at Paris.

Paris, July 5.—The principal event of the celebration of Independence Day here by the American colony was the dinner which the American Chamber of Commerce gave. The guests numbered about 350. The United States Ambassador, Mr. James B. Eustis, presided, and Stephen H. Tyng, president of the American Chamber of Commerce, delivered the introductory speech. M. Hanatoux responded with proposing the health of President Faure. In so doing he paid a glowing tribute to the United States, which, he said, within a century had acquired first rank among the nations of the globe.

All Went Well in Iowa.

Mason City, Iowa, July 5.—Yesterday was ushered in under a sunny sky. Crowds flocked to the city at an early hour. Before 10 o'clock the city was thronged with 20,000 people from all parts of the country. There was a parade at 10 o'clock of civic societies and merchants' floats two miles long. It was the finest ever seen in this city. After the parade the crowd assembled in the City Park to listen to the addresses. No accidents are reported to have marred festivities throughout the state.

Our Countrymen in London.

London, July 5.—The celebrations of the Fourth of July in London began with the much-advertised "meet" of American vehicles at 11 o'clock in the morning in Hyde Park. Flags were flying throughout the day over the United States embassy and consulate, as well as over a number of American places of business. There were over 400 acceptances for the dinner of the American Society in the evening.

Celebration General in Indiana.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 5.—Only once before were there more visitors in Terre Haute than yesterday and that was the day when President Cleveland was here in his first administration. The parade in the morning was witnessed by 30,000. Indiana towns generally celeorated with their usual patriotic enthusiasm.

Illinois Honors the Day.

Joliet, Ill., July 5.—Business of all kinds was suspended throughout Will county, and the day was observed with celebrations in every city, town and hamlet in the state.

AT EUROPEAN CITIES.

Banquets Held in Commemoration of the Great Anniversary.

Rome, July 5.—"Old Glory" was flung to the breeze yesterday over the American Embassy and Consulate General, and a number of the hotels having American guests also displayed the stars and stripes. The American colony met at a banquet in the evening.

Berlin, July 5.—Many American residents of this city and suburbs flew the stars and stripes in honor of the Fourth of July, and there were a number of quiet celebrations of the day. Flags were displayed over the United States Embassy and Consulate General, and at a dinner in the evening patriotic orations were delivered.

Vienna, July 5.—The American flag floated yesterday over the United States Ministry and Consulate General, as well as over a number of American business houses and private residences occupied by citizens of the United States.

Madrid, July 5.—The American flag was hoisted at an early hour over the United States Legation and Consulate, and a number of American visitors called during the day at the residence of Mr. Hannis Taylor, the United States minister.

BOSTON A. P. A.'S FIRED UPON.

Little Red Schoolhouse Parade Attacked and a Spectator Killed.

Boston, Mass., July 5.—Riot and bloodshed attended what had come to be called the "little red schoolhouse parade" in East Boston yesterday afternoon. Trouble had been feared, and, as a precautionary measure, the line was guarded by fully 300 bluecoats. There were about 1,200 men in the parade, which was headed by the "little red schoolhouse," which was a facsimile of the traditional New England country schoolhouse. Hooting and jarring only occurred at first, but, when the corner of Saratoga and Meridian streets was reached the crowd broke in upon the A. P. A. ranks. Hats were battered, sticks were used, and a general fight was precipitated. With this as a starter fights continued as the column slowly made progress through the crowd, the police using their clubs freely.

After the dismissal, one of the lodges, supposed to be a Boston lodge, was on the way to the ferry. When they got as far as the Atlantic works they got into an altercation with a crowd of men on the sidewalk. Before any one was really aware of the seriousness of the row, a score of shots were fired. Even then it was supposed that it was only blank cartridges that had been fired, although one man was seen to drop to the ground and then clasp his head in his hands. The man proved to be John W. Willis of 15 Webster street, a longshoreman, who was a spectator. He died within a few minutes. Patrick A. Kelly was also wounded, and Michael Doyle so severely clubbed that he will die.

The police were attracted by the reports of the revolver, and but for their coming there would have been several men killed, as most of the paraders had revolvers and were prepared to use them. Bystanders picked out Harold G. Brown and Joseph Ross as the men who did the shooting and they were arrested. The police then formed a guard about the rest of this lodge and escorted it to the ferry. On the ferry-boat they hid their badges and regalia and were lost in the crowd.

KANSAS TEMPERANCE UNION.

Six Hundred Delegates Assemble at Topeka to Discuss Prohibition.

Topeka, Kas., July 5.—The convention of the State Temperance Union assembled here yesterday, filling the largest hall in the city. Delegates to the number of over 600 presented their credentials. The morning was devoted to the organization and to general responses to three questions: How many tipping places in your locality? What efforts are being made to enforce the prohibitory law? What is the local sentiment? The responses were mainly from the smaller towns and generally noted a sentiment favorable to the law and fairly successful efforts in its enforcement. There was no response from Leavenworth. A delegate from Atchison said the saloons had been closed there since Saturday night, and one from Fort Scott said the same thing in reference to his town, but that previous to Saturday Fort Scott had seven or eight open saloons.

Kentucky Populists in Convention.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—When the populist state convention met at 2 o'clock yesterday the various committees were selected by the congressional districts. There were about 200 delegates present at the afternoon session. The convention adjourned at 6 o'clock until 8 o'clock this morning, to allow the committee on resolutions to report. The resolutions will be strong for free silver. Senator Butler of North Carolina addressed the delegates last night at Library hall, where the convention is being held.

Demand a Silver Convention.

St. Louis, Mo., July 5.—Dr. A. W. McAlester of Columbia, Mo.; Mr. E. R. Britt of St. Charles and Sam B. Cook of Mexico are here to present to Chairman Maiffitt of the democratic state central committee the ultimatum of the counties of the state upon the matter of a state silver convention. They come as representatives of the conference held June 10 at the Planters' hotel. Eighty-six counties, they announce, out of 114 in the state have declared in favor of holding a silver convention.

Simces to Form a Cabinet.

Belgrade, July 5.—King Alexander has charged M. Simces to form a coalition Cabinet.

Bismarck Reported to Be Stronger Than Usual—Mount Vesuvius Was in Action—Fatal Balloon Explosion—Funeral of Prof. Huxley at Finchley Yesterday.

Rome, July 5.—Signor Galli, secretary of the interior, and Deputy Marscalchi fought a duel this morning. Both were slightly wounded. Galli had called his opponent a liar.

Bismarck Is Better.

Berlin, July 5.—Count Herbert Bismarck notified his friends today that his father's health was better than usual.

Mount Vesuvius in Action.] Naples, July 5.—A fissure has appeared in the northwest side of the cone of Mount Vesuvius, and a great stream of lava is flowing down the mountain side.

Fatal Balloon Explosion. Berlin, July 5.—A military balloon exploded yesterday in the shed of the barracks. Three soldiers were injured, and one of them has since died.

Funeral of Prof. Huxley.

London, July 5.—The remains of Prof. Huxley, who died June 23, at Hadeslea, near Eastbourne, were buried yesterday in Finchley Cemetery.

IN A MOB'S HANDS.

Unpaid Italians Cause a Reign of Terror in Jeffersonville, Ind.

Indianapolis Ind., July 5.—The failure of the contractors of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Rockport to pay the 150 Italian laborers the money due to them according to promise has caused them to become violent, and the town is practically in their hands. They are crazed with liquor and threaten to burn the place. The women and children are terror-stricken. All the business houses and public places are closed and the men and boys, to a man, have been sworn in as deputy sheriffs. Under the sheriff and marshal they are guarding the bridge and other places threatened with destruction. A bloody battle is imminent, and is only kept back by the pleadings of two Catholic priests.

COLLEGE MEN ELECT OFFICERS.

Proceedings of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Convention at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., July 5.—At the intercollegiate prohibition convention yesterday the first business was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: President, Clay Herrick, Berea College, Kentucky; Vice-President, F. W. Barber, University of Wisconsin; Treasurer, Fred S. Nave, now of Ohio Wesleyan University, but who will go to Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., next year. The Secretary is to be elected by the Executive Committee on the recommendation of the convention. John Elliott, of the Yale law school, was suggested for the place.

For Speaker Meyer's Funeral.

Freeport, Ill., July 5.—Arrangements for the funeral of the late Speaker Meyer have been completed. The honorary pall-bearers are Senators Munson, Aspinwall, Fisher, O'Brien, Wiloughby, Mahoney, Bartling, and Representatives McCarthy, Fleming, Stoskopf, Shanahan, Muir, Glade, Schubert, Hogan, Dudley, Mahoney, Curley, Brennan, Callahan, Needles, Berry, Crafts, Cochran, Mauritzon, J. W. White. The active pall-bearers are Albert Frueh, H. J. Moogk, Otto L. Schulte, O. E. Heard, F. Charles Donohue, of Freeport, and Louis Karcher, of Chicago.

Woodward on His Way Home.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 5.—Frank R. E. Woodward, the Minneapolis newspaper man supposed to be lying in a Spanish dungeon in Cuba, has been heard from and ought to arrive in New York to-day. His mother received a brief letter via Havana, dated June 27, at Port Gardenas, on the north coast, saying that he had embarked on the British steamship Ardianhu for New York and would arrive early July 5. He says he has had many thrilling experiences and has been wounded in the arm, but is all right.

Texas Law on Pugnacity.

Waco, Tex., July 5.—State Representative Mills, speaking of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight and the bearing of the statutes of the state thereon, said yesterday: "The law of 1889 imposing an occupation tax of $500 on prize fights was repealed by the act of 1891, making prize fighting a penal offense and providing for a sentence of not less than sixty days nor more than twelve months in jail." Mr. Mills is the author of the act of 1889 prohibiting prize fights.

He Reassures the Colonies.

London, July 5.—Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, the new Secretary of State for the Colonies, received the representatives of the different colonies at the Colonial office yesterday. Replying to Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian High Commissioner, who was spokesman of the party, Mr. Chamberlain said the colonies could rely upon his hearty co-operation to advance their interests and increase their influence.

Foreign Residents Flee.

Hong Kong, July 5.—The foreign residents of Tai Wan, in the island of Formosa, have fled to Laiko, abandoning their property. It is rumored that the Japanese troops have landed forty miles north of Tai Wan, intending to surround the enemy and prevent them from retreating to the mountains.

ONE DAY A BRIDE
NEXT DAY A WIDOW

REV. A. KLOTTEL'S YOUNG WIFE SADLY STRICKEN.

Her Husband's Death Follows on the Day After His Marriage—Kenosha Horse Thiet Sentenced to Three Years' Imprisonment—Judge Harlow S. Orton's Demise.

Beaver Dam, July 5.—Last Monday evening, Rev. A. Klottel of Elgin, Ill., came here to marry Miss Ella Zimmerman, a prominent Beaver Dam young lady. He was taken seriously ill, but as all the arrangements were complete and the guests were present it was decided to go on with the ceremony. Tuesday he became worse, and last night he expired. The young widow is heart broken.

Kenosha, July 5.—James Samuels pleaded guilty to horse stealing this morning. He was sentenced by Judge Fish to three years and six months at Waupun.

Hortonville, July 5.—Almost a fatal tragedy occurred at Dale yesterday. Tom Running in a fit of jealousy, shot at Miss Lydia Leiby and Frank Coffman. One shot took effect in Miss Leiby's shoulder. She will recover. Running is still at large.

Berlin, July 5.—The four-year old child of Mrs. Wallace, living in this city, met with a peculiar and fatal accident yesterday. He was playing about a haystack, when he fell in such a manner that his neck became caught in the rack and was broken. He was found hanging in this position by his mother.

Madison, Wis., July 5.—Chief Justice Harlow S. Orton of the Wisconsin Supreme court died at his home here last evening, after an illness of about eight months. His wife and family were at the bedside. He was 75 years of age. No arrangements for the funeral have as yet been made. Under the statute Judge Cassidy, the oldest justice in point of service, will succeed him. The governor is authorized to appoint a justice by reason of the vacancy, who will hold office until next spring.

DROP WITH A BRIDGE.

Indiana Town Shook by an Accident—Many Badly Hurt.

Bristol, Ind., July 5.—At 6 o'clock last evening, while 300 of the population of this village of 600 persons were gathered on a bridge over the St. Joseph's river, and watching a tub race, 100 feet of the sidewalk of the bridge went down, carrying with it about 100 persons. The town was immediately crazed with excitement, and in a short time, by almost superhuman efforts, the victims were all removed from the water. The physicians throughout the surrounding country were summoned, and the injured were cared for as well as circumstances would permit. No one was killed outright, but several will die. Following are the seriously injured:

Dr. C. E. Dutrow, probably fatally; Clyde Trumbull, Three Rivers, Mich., body and head hurt; Mrs. George Williamson, body hurt; Mrs. Albert Stamp; Jesse Welsch, Elkhart, Ind.; Hubert Nicholson, broken leg and arm; Daisy Little, broken arm; G. B. Floyd; Howard Meyers; Miss Mary Miller; Arthur Hassman, Mottville, Mich.; Mrs. M. This fearful interruption of Fourth of July sports carried mourning into nearly every household and changed this village into one great hospital.

The programme of the citizens' committee had been successfully carried through to the tub races and the crowd repaired to the river banks, which they lined for a square or more. Many followed the best of them down stream to the bridge, on which a crowd had already gathered, it being the best point of observation. The tubs passed under the bridge from the east. The crowd surged over to the sidewalk, which projected from the west side, to watch the racers as they came into view in the stretch.

The mass of people filled the walk and the iron braces supporting it gave way. The sidewalk for a space of seventy-five feet, crowded with its living load, was precipitated a distance of thirty feet to the rocks and water below. The shrieks of the women and children and the cries and groans of the wounded were terrible to hear. The crowd on the bank was stunned for a minute by the magnitude of the calamity, but everyone rushed to the rescue, and the bruised and bleeding sufferers were carried to the shore and every possible assistance was rendered.

HUNDRED ARE HURT AT LA SALLE.

One Man Dead as the Result of an Explosion and Terrible Panic.

La Salle, Ill., July 5.—A successful celebration here yesterday had a sad ending at night, and one man lies dead and two others are seriously injured as the result of an accident during the fireworks display. A bomb rocket was sent up, but, after going a short distance, it fell and exploded, setting fire to a large quantity of fireworks, which exploded with terrific force. There were 6,000 people within a block of the place at the time, and a terrible panic followed. Horses ran away, and the crowd stampeded, crushing women and children under foot. One hundred persons were more or less seriously injured. William Tahl, of Tampico, Ill., was struck by a rocket on the head and was so seriously injured that the physicians say he cannot live. Dan Cahill had his leg shattered by exploding fireworks and was trampled on by the crowd, suffering injuries which may prove fatal. Harry Kenney, a wife, who says his parents live in California, was horribly burned about the face, head and arms. His injuries are serious. Harry Joy, of Wenona, had his arm broken. A number of women and children were injured. The adjoining buildings, which caught fire, were saved by the fire department.

Nineteen Spectators Injured.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 5.—While the last race in the meet at the Driving Park yesterday afternoon was in progress the grand stand collapsed, seriously injuring nineteen occupants. Three sustained injuries which may result fatally. Some of the victims are: Frank Lemonvener, spine broken; John C. Hell, three ribs broken; G. Barreth, president Buffalo Commercial bank, left leg fractured; F. T. Mitchell, clerk Nickel-Plate railroad, right leg fractured; Mary Montgomery, collar-bone broken and internally injured; Mrs. James Cuddy, head, face and scalp wounded; Mrs. Wood, thigh broken; E. S. Pawley, secretary of the Buffalo Driving Park association, badly bruised and cut. The others sustained more or less severe fractures and contusions.

Killed on the Street in Denver.

Denver, Colo., July 5.—John J. Minnix, a brick mason, who had wealthy relatives in Peoria, Ill., was shot in the neck and killed on the street last night. The wound may have been caused by a stray bullet, but it is suspected that the shot was fired by some one who had a grudge against Minnix or John Gray, a negro, who was standing near him.

Escape from Ludlow Street Jail.

New York, July 5.—The three alleged postoffice thieves, Joseph Killoran, Charles Allen, and Harry Russell, who are wanted at Springfield, Ill., escaped from the Ludlow Street jail yesterday, while their daily exercise.

FIVE IN ONE FAMILY
KILLED BY GAS

AN OPEN BURNER AND A CHICAGO TRAGEDY.

All the Members of Fritz Hellman's Household Dead in the Morning—Neighbors Had Investigated, To Learn Why Nobody Was Stirring.

Chicago, July 5.—The family of Fritz Hellman, five in all, were asphyxiated last night by gas in their home on Cornelia avenue. Neighbors made the discovery, having noticed that nobody was stirring.

OHIO TOWN DAMAGED.

The Business Portion Badly Scorched—Loss Will Exceed $50,000.

Wellington, Ohio, July 5.—Fire started here at 9 o'clock last evening which threatened to destroy not only the business portion of the city, but the residence part as well. The fire had its origin in a frame stable and spread with alarming rapidity. The frame block of J. M. Otterbacher was soon in flames and the stone and brick building of O. M. Stroup went next, the destruction of the restaurants of Louis Ely and Ernst Lemmel following. Next was the brick building of J. M. Otterbacher, which, together with its contents, was valued at $25,000. The Home Savings Bank was in the line of the fire and all the books, money and safety deposit boxes were removed. At midnight the fire was under control. The loss will reach $50,000, and is a serious blow to the town.

Arrowhead Hotel in Flames.

San Francisco, Cal., July 5.—The Arrowhead Hotel, one of the noted tourists' resorts of Southern California, burned yesterday afternoon. The cause of the fire, which started in the cupola, is as yet unknown. There were about fifty guests in the hotel, and few of their effects were saved. The loss can not now be estimated. The building cost $50,000, and there was an insurance of only $20,000.

Michigan Warehouse Burns.

Jackson, Mich., July 5.—At 11 o'clock last night the warehouse of the Central City Oil company caught fire and burned to the ground. A large quantity of oil was stored in the structure and all was destroyed. The loss will reach $10,000. While this fire was in progress two other fires were started in different parts of the city, but they were extinguished with little damage. It is believed all were of incendiary origin.

Big Fire in a Small Village.

Jackson, Mich., July 5.—Word was received from Concord, fourteen miles west of this city, at 10:30 last night, announcing that the village was burning and asking for assistance. The fire started in a livery barn and communicated to the Baptist church. At 11:30 the fire was under control. The loss will reach $7,000.

Largest Indiana Elevator Burns.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 5.—Bartlett, Kuhn & Co.'s large grain elevator, designated as elevator A, was burned down shortly before midnight last night. It was filled with grain, and the loss will be heavy, but Mr. Kuhn could give no estimate of the amount. It was the largest elevator in Indiana.

Fire in a Box Factory.

Fort Madison, Ia., July 5.—Fire broke out in the extensive box factory of L. J. Ripley & Co., at 9:45 yesterday morning, supposed to have been caused by sparks from a locomotive. The building was consumed with its contents. The loss is $30,000; insurance, $18,000.

Railroad Station Burned.

Rockford, Ill., July 5.—The Illinois Central east side passenger station was burned to the ground at an early hour yesterday morning. It is supposed to have been caused by fireworks.

RAILROAD TRACKS WASHED OUT

Western Kansas, Oklahoma, and the Indian Territory Visited by a Storm.

Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—Heavy rain storms Thursday in western Kansas, Oklahoma and the Indian territory have caused many washouts and seriously impaired the train schedules of the Union Pacific, Rock Island, Burlington & Missouri Pacific railways.

The flood washed out fourteen bents of a bridge on the Kansas Pacific, one mile from Turkey Creek, Kan., and about twenty feet of the filling. About 1,100 feet of filling was washed out at Mile Post No. 406 and at Smoky Bridge, East of Lisbon, Kan., all bents were carried away and a number of feet of approaches to the bridge structure also vanished. On the Rock Island railway between Goodland and Jennings, Kan., three bridges have gone out and trains were also annihilated both ways. The line of the flood was about fifty miles east of the Colorado-Kansas City branch.

Deputies Capture the Plant.

Duluth, Minn., July 5.—In the West Superior Iron and Coal company case Judge Ludwig of Milwaukee issued an order directing the sheriff of Douglas county to reinstate Receiver Kelly in charge of the plant and keep him there. The order of the Milwaukee court was carried into effect last night. Fifty deputies in charge of Under Sheriff Wilcox went to the steel plant, which has been held for T. G. Alvord, president of the Superior National bank, by a party of watchmen. The deputies demanded admittance to the plant and a surrender of its possession, but the watchmen refused to give it up. The deputies then broke down the doors, took charge of the plant and placed Mr. Alvord's men under arrest. The men will have a hearing today.

THE OPEN AIR OPERA IS A GREAT SUCCESS

ROMANTIC LOVE STORY TOLD UNDER THE SKIES.

Performance of "The Great Tycoon" Wednesday and Thursday Evenings Was All That Could Be Desired From Any Point of View—Names of the Singers.

An opera in the open air is something new in Janesville, but none who heard "The Great Tycoon" sung can deny that it was a performance as enjoyable as it was novel. To the ladies of Trinity Church Guild the credit is due, for they "got it up" under the direction of A. L. Baker. It was a romantic story that was so tunefully told in the amphitheatre on the vacant lot in the rear of the Y. M. C. A. building. It had to do with an English lord who wanted an American wife; a girl who loved another; a pack of college boys who locked an obstinate father in the dark hold of an ocean steamer; and, as usual, the satisfactory termination of the whole difficulty. The first scene is laid on an ocean liner. Violet Knickerbocker (Miss Hyde) and a number of her school friends are chaperoned by Mrs. Hurricane (Miss Watrous of Madison). Lord Dolphin (Dr. C. T. Pierce) wants to wed Violet because she is comely and has the cash. So does Alvin Barry (Burns Hoverson, of Stoughton) and Miss Violet favors Barry. This displeases her father, General Knickerbocker, (Grant Thomas of Madison) and he sends Violet up in her room.

Hobgoblins to the Rescue. Then Violet is in sore straits, but her friend Dolly Dimple (Miss Phemie Grant) learns of her predicament and releases her. In the meantime the college boys disguise themselves as hobgoblins and clap Old Man Knickerbocker and Lord Dolphin into the hold and batten down the hatches. Then Violet and Alvin fix it up to elope, when the vessel lands, but the crafty old general gets loose and knocks the scheme on the head. Then the lovers try a new track and are rounded up to the windward again despite the fact that Alvin attempts to pass himself off as his hated rival, Lord Dolphin. Then he puts up a job on the old man and pretends that he is the "Great Tycoon." This match suits the old general and the wedding ceremony is performed. As soon as the knot is tied, Alvin casts off his disguise. The general then has to admit that he has been fooled and white winged peace assumes supreme command. And to make it "more so," the general and Miss Hurricane and Rufus Ready and Dolly Dimple also decide to wed and for a time there is a boom in marriage licenses.

Production A Fine One. The opera is a tuneful one, the parts were well taken and the performance was a satisfactory one from any point of view. Incidentally some pretty dances and choruses were introduced that added much to the general effect. Huyke's orchestra furnished the instrumental music, and that, too, was all that could be desired. Miss Hyde and Burns Hoverson carried off the honors, but Dr. Charles Pierce, J. H. Burns, Fayette Durin, Jr., Grant Thomas and Miss Phemie Grant, all deserve especial mention and the children in the dances and choruses did exceptionally well.

The first performance was given Wednesday evening, and a large audience was present, while the second performance last evening was naturally a little smoother than the first one, but all were all that could be asked for. One hundred and thirty-three people took part in the production, the cast of characters, the members of the choruses and the participants in the dances being as follows:

BOLTS KILL PORTER STOCK. Lightning Was Fatal To a Horse and Cow—Other News Notes. PORTER, July 5.—During the storm on Monday of last week, a bolt of lightning struck a horse belonging to Thomas Cassidy, killing the animal instantly. There was no insurance. The Phoenix insurance company, through the state adjuster, Fred Tolles, of Menasha, promptly adjusted the loss of David McCarthy, who had a cow killed by lightning on June 17, paying him $40. Maggie McCarthy, accompanied by Miss Alice Clarke of Stoughton, is spending the week with friends in Waukesha. At the annual meeting of District No. 3, held on Monday evening S. Dooley, was reelected director for the next three years. M. S. Frank Lawler of Larchwood, Iowa, accompanied by her three children is the guest of her parents here. Mr. Dooley of Janesville, was the guest of his daughter Mrs. M. Bradley last week. James Murphy's folks have purchased a new piano and Frank Burdick of Edgerton will give their children lessons. Mrs. Gertie McCarthy and little daughter of Edgerton spent last week with relatives here. Mrs. Huggett of the town of Fulton was visiting friends here recently.

He Couldn't Help It. Clara—John why don't you express yourself in a different manner? John—I haven't a "franc" with any other company my dear. And yet we wonder at the increase in crime. John always has traded with us and our summer suit sale has made him very funny, he isn't the only man either, the values we are giving for little money cannot but help drawing them all to us. Do some figuring. Frank H. Baack.

HAD TO LEAVE HOME FOR THEIR FOURTH

JANESVILLE PEOPLE FLOCKED TO CLINTON.

There They Raced Horses, Fought, and Ate the Hotels Bare—Train From This City Was Crowded—One Small Fire in the Second Ward.

Accidents and fires were the only excitement the Janesville Fourth promised. Up the river there was a picnic with rope walking and wheelbarrow races, to be sure, but everybody who wanted a real celebration went out of town.

Fires were as scarce as fun, so nervous property owners were reconciled to the lack of diversion. Only one alarm was turned in. At the home of J. F. Hutchinson, 106 Cornelia street, about noon, some children threw a firecracker upon the kitchen roof. For an hour or more a slow fire smoldered there. When discovered, the whole under part of the roof was burning. The fire was quickly extinguished, with a loss not exceeding $50. No insurance.

Burned faces, runaways and mangled hands were unusually scarce. If doctors depend on the Fourth as a source of wealth, they were disappointed yesterday.

Clinton Drew 200 From Here. The attractions that were lacking here were easily found in other towns, however. Two hundred Janesville people spent the day in Clinton. Most of them were peaceful, but a few of them tried to drink all the beer in the village; two girls tried to drench the streets with hostile blood, and a few young men were put on ice by the Clinton police for letting their patriotism take a violent turn.

When the Green Bay train pulled into Clinton the coaches were packed to suffocation by the Janesville delegation. Those who went down got their money's worth. The Fourth was celebrated in a way that Clinton had never seen before, and the little town had a metropolitan appearance.

The principal attraction in the morning was the game of base ball at Railroad park, between the Holmes Hustlers of Janesville and the Clintons. Defeat befel the hustlers by a score of 19 to 14. W. Steed of this city played with the Clintons as third baseman, and covered himself with glory by making a double play. The Hustlers were Tim Sullivan, c; Mike Sullivan, p; G. Hell, s. s.; Holt, 1 b; H. Mantha, 2 b; J. Maxwell, 3 b; W. Murphy, c f; M. Costello, 1 f; W. Hager, r f.

Janesville Horses Took the Money. In the afternoon the whole town and surrounding country turned out for the horse and bicycle races, which took place at the driving park. Fully two thousand people were upon the grounds and Janesville was well represented with a delegation of two hundred. In the 3:00 minute trot, Blaze driven by H. Goldin of Clinton and owned by Paul Gherke of this city won first money while Helen J. owned by Albert Schailer of this city and driven by James Scott won second after taking the first two heats.

In the 2:40 trot, Fairchild Boy, driven by Jas. Cutler won first money, while Kittie Smith owned and driven by Frank Smith of this city was awarded second money, after winning the first two heats with ease. The 2:28 trotting race went to Allegro owned in Darien Arabella owned at Tiffany got second money, while Isabella, owned and driven by Frank L. Smith of this city was a close third.

Dark Horse Among the Wheelmen. The bicycle races consisted of a half mile and a three mile race, which were both easily won by an unknown—a solemn he-speckled young man, who came from Chicago. A party of Chicago boys who are camping at Delevan Lake rode over on their bikes and captured everything in sight.

While the crowds were at the race track there was nearly as large a crowd three miles north of the city at Wyman's grove. The affair was a picnic given by the Clinton churches and Sunday schools combined. The Janesville Y. M. C. A. band, composed of F. F. Lewis, H. P. Brunson, S. Kent, W. W. Brunson, W. Coleman, J. Koebelin, H. H. Dickinson, L. Williams, B. Lewis, G. Williams and A. Bailey furnished excellent music, and were a center of attraction.

Bower City Girls in a Free-For-All. The climax of the street happenings was reached when two Janesville girls who live in the Fifth ward, came together in a free-for-all fight. One of the girls called the other unpleasant names, and the air was full of dust and back hair in a minute. They were separated by one of the special police, after a riot call had been sounded.

From the latest reports the cell in the Clinton calaboose where Bitson slept sheltered four well known Janesville young boys, over night. They were a trifle enthusiastic over Washington's defeat of the British, and refused to believe that it happened over a hundred years ago and did not need half a keg of beer to make it binding.

In their anxiety to see the Fourth at Clinton, two well known Janesville boys, who live in the Fourth ward, jumped the blind baggage on the accommodation. They rode as far as Shopiere, where they were put off. They then caught the noon Chicago train and returned home.

Many Handsome Turnouts Seen. An unusual number of swell turnouts from this city were seen around the Clinton track during the races.

Prof. Lamkin whose flow of eloquence has been heard upon Janesville streets, made an attempt to charm his listeners with a speech at band stand. Just as he was referring to the glorious Fourth, he was taken in hand by one of the police and given his choice of cutting it short or going to the calaboose. The professor said he was always allowed to speak when in Janesville, and there being such a large number of Janesville people present he would like to finish his speech, but the police couldn't see it that way. A free-for-all took place in a saloon at one of the hotels, and a Janesville boy was the shining light. The fighters were hustled off to the lockup, amid the shouts of the crowd.

The July races on the Janesville track have been well advertised in Clinton. All the hotels and principal stores are full of blazing lithographs. A. F. Phillips of this city, acted as one of the judges at the races and his decisions gave general satisfaction. A sprinkling wagon that reminded one of hard times made several unsuccessful attempts to lay the dust between heats.

Other Attraction For Bower City Folk. Several wheelmen from here entered the Fourth of July races in Monroe but only one man landed a prize. He was Will R. Pfennig and the race was the quarter mile open. W. F. Sanger of Milwaukee took first and Frank Moore of Beloit second.

H. D. McKinney had horses entered in the Stoughton races and horsemen from here went up to see the fun. In the three minute trot McKinney's Ggden Phallamont was second, King Wagner taking first in straight heats. Coupon, from the McKinney stable took the first heat in the 2:25 class. Brice-Brace won the second and third heats, with Wzmakh a good second, after which Wzmakh won the fourth, fifth and sixth heats and the race, the contest being very hot.

SUMMER SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY Prof. Buell Here Ready To Take Names Of Prospective Pupils.

The Rock County summer school will commence at 8:30 Monday morning, in the High School building. An opportunity will be afforded to all pupils of the high school or of the graded schools above the fourth, to make up back work or to do extra work. Prof. Buell has returned to the city and will be at the High School building Saturday morning at 9 o'clock to meet any pupils desiring to learn the particulars relating to the school. Those desiring to take summer school boarders would do well to notify H. C. Buell or Prof. T. Blakeley. The department of methods will be open Monday, July 15th.

CAPELLE BROTHERS IN THE EAST Are Now On A Steamer On The River St. Lawrence.

Clare Capelle and his brother Fred Capelle, are enjoying a pleasant steamboat ride on the river St. Lawrence from Kingston to Montreal, their trip being through the Thousand Islands at the start. At noon they went through "Long Soo" rapids and about 6 o'clock will shoot the celebrated Lachien rapids near Monreal. From Montreal they will return to the "states" and view White Mountain scenery for a time. They intend to remain in the east during July.

JUSTICE CASSODAY TO SUCCEED ORTON

FORMER JANESVILLE MAN TO BE CHIEF JUSTICE.

Death of the Venerable Jurist Who Has So Long Filled the Post—Three Men Suggested For the Vacancy—Years of Service Regulates the Succession.

Chief Justice Harlow S. Orton of the state supreme court died of cancer in Madison last evening. Under the statutes the oldest judge in point of service on the bench will succeed him. Justice J. B. Cassoday will be the person so honored. Judge Cassoday was born in New York, July 7, 1830, and came to Wisconsin in 1857, settling in Janesville, where he practiced law until 1880, when Governor Smith appointed him to a place on a bench, after the death of the late Chief Justice Ryan.

GOSSIP OF THE DAY IN TOWN

The question of the present time is not how cheap but how good. So many cheap and inferior shoes have been sold on this market that the demand now is for something positively reliable. Reliability has always been first with us in placing our orders. We realize that if our shoes give the proper service, that a customer once, will continue to be a customer. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

$10,000 worth of shoes to be sold regardless of cost. If you are in need of shoes, come in and see us. We have all styles, all prices, all shades, and they must be sold at once. Lloyd & Son.

Shoes to be proud of, and why not, you are not getting anything but the highest grade shoes and paying half what you usually do for them. Becker & Woodruff.

HAVING purchased the latest improved piano truck, I am prepared to move pianos on short notice. Leave orders at C. D. Stevens. E. Fish.

Summer joy—that's the name of those serge Congress going at 50 cents. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

This is no chestnut to draw trade, but a genuine closing out sale, and we are going to sell. Lloyd & Son.

Regeneration of sole—part of our trade. We repair your shoes. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

The buckboard is the same as ever. It goes to the boys with a suit. Frank H. Baack.

The News Of Afton.

AFTON, July 5.—Afton Good Templars will hold an ice cream social at their lodge room, in the basement of the Baptist church, next Wednesday evening. All are invited. Miss Kate Humphrey, district lecturer, will meet with Afton lodge at its regular meeting, next Tuesday evening. All members are requested to be present. Miss Bertha Tank left Tuesday morning for Beloit and will spend a few weeks camping at Vost's park with Line City friends. Marvin E. Patterson, of Evansville, formerly night operator here, has charge of Afton station during the absence of our genial agent, J. W. Searles, who, in company with his family, left Wednesday, for a short vacation with friends in Milwaukee, Chicago and Rockford. Postmaster Williams has been having a severe attack of rheumatism, but is able to be around again. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schooff, of Helenville, Wis., are visiting relatives in this vicinity. Mrs. Nellie McCrea and son Willie returned last Tuesday evening from a visit with Chicago friends. Miss Birdie Lewis of Beloit, who has been the guest of Miss Alice Eldredge for a few days, returned home Tuesday. Mattie E. Waitt is visiting her brother William at Woodstock, Ill., this week.

Notice This! I have a choice lot of hard and soft coal, also wood of all kinds, which I will sell as low as any dealer in the city. Give me a trial. P. A. Maguire.

High Art Vehicles. Everybody delighted; and why shouldn't they be? They can't help being completely carried away, after seeing our line of vehicles. It seems queer, perhaps, to speak of high art in buggies, but it's a fact, nevertheless, that this point has been reached on every make of vehicles we handle. F. A. Taylor.

NO SECRET IN THIS WOMAN'S CASE.

Mrs. Campbell Wishes Her Letter Published so that the Truth May Be Known.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS] Of the thousands of letters received from women all over the world by Mrs. Pinkham, not one is given to the public unless by the wish of the writer. Thus absolute confidence is established between Mrs. Pinkham and her army of patients; and she freely solicits a letter from any woman, rich or poor, who is in ill health or ailing.

In the case of Mary E. Campbell, of Albion, Noble Co., Ind., her suffering was so severe, her relief so suddenly realized, and her gratitude so great, that she wishes the circumstances published, in the hope that others may be benefited thereby. She says:—

"My physician told me I had dropsy and falling of the womb. My stomach and bowels were so bloated I could not get a full breath. My face and hands were a dreadful yellow. I had that dreadful bearing-down pain, backache, palpitation of the heart, and nervousness."

"One of my physicians told me I had something growing in my stomach; and the medicine that I took gave me relief only for a short time. I thought I must die. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it worked like a charm. After taking the first bottle I could walk across the street, now I am well. I advise all my friends to take it."

—MARY E. CAMPBELL, Albion, Noble Co., Ind.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1758—George Augustus Viscount Howe killed near Fort Mifflin, Pa. N. Y.; his skeleton was found there in 1890.
1801—David Glasgow Farragut, naval hero, born near Knoxville; died 1870. Farragut was the son of a Spaniard who had fought in the Revolution. He had attained the rank of captain in 1851, but when he went to Washington to offer his services for the Union the government had no ship to give him, and he spent his time in routine duties on the retiring board. When the expedition against New Orleans was fitted out, Farragut was placed in command of the navy's armament and thus opened his career as one of the most brilliant victories of the war.
1810—Ephraim Taylor Barnum, showman, born at Bethel, Conn.; died at Bridgeport, Conn., 1881.
1862—Duc de Pasquier, distinguished at the courts of Napoleon I and Louis Philippe, died at Paris; born 1797.
1886—Commodore Francis Lockwood, U. S. N., retired, died at Flushing, N. Y.; born 1803.
1894—Sir Austin Henry Layard, the explorer, died in London; born 1817.

DEFICIT PROVES EVEN GREATER

There is reason to think the treasury deficit just reported would be considerably worse if a true showing had been made. For several weeks past, it is represented, proper expenditures have been withheld and the payment of accrued claims postponed in order to cut down the deficit at the end of the year, thus misleading the country as to the true condition of things. However, at the best, it is bad enough. There has been nothing like it at any other time since the war. So long as the republican party was in power, it kept the receipts up to the expenditures, and also provided a surplus for the rapid diminution of the public debt. Under the present administration the debt has been increased instead of decreased, and the treasury gold reserve, the basis and security of our currency, has had to be replenished three times. The contrast between the records of the two parties in this respect is an instructive and important one, and the people are not likely to forget the lesson that it teaches.

GARFIELD AND THE SILVER FLOOD.

The biography of James G. Blaine by Gail Hamilton, which has just been published, contains a letter from Garfield dated January 17, 1881, in which occurs the following suggestive passage concerning a matter of much present interest and importance:

How do you feel over the financial outlook? Think of $1,300,000,000, of money in circulation, with silver certificates increasing indefinitely, the coinage of 89-cent dollars going on ad nauseam, and from every unknown crack and cranny of the world the old fractional silver, antedating 1860, coming back to us, perhaps being manufactured beyond our jurisdiction, and shipped here at a profit of 25 per cent, and no law for retiring it. How many miles above Niagara are we?

POWERFUL LEVER FOR ENGLAND

There is too much of an opening for English influence in the country around the Nicaragua canal. A French writer in "L'Illustration" warns the United States that England will permit us to build the canal because it will be a point vulnerable to her navy, enabling her to prevent the annexation of Canada and to bring a greater pressure on this country than she is now able to do. As England controls the Suez Canal, built by French enterprise, this admonition should be duly weighed along with other views relating to the Nicaragua scheme.

Democrats explain the $113,000,000 deficit by saying they have had to meet unexpected conditions. But what caused these conditions, and why were they not prevented? The country was at the flood-tide of prosperity when the democratic victory of 1892 occurred. There was a surplus in the treasury and an excess of receipts over expenditures when the present administration took charge of the public business. Whatever new conditions have arisen must be traced to democratic sources.

According to the "Railroad Gazette" the railroad companies have ordered 25,000 freight cars this year at a cost of $10,000,000. If the crops turn out well even this re-enforcement will hardly meet the demands of reviving and expanding business.

Germany does not make appropriations to cut down weeds for lazy farmers, but its schools are provided with wall maps representing weeds in their natural colors and showing how to make war on all weeds with a minimum of labor.

A Thing of Beauty is a Joy For Ever.

This applies strictly to the Henney buggies. For instance take our No. 20 surreys, it costs more to make the circle alone than it does to build completely the cheap wagons that are offered. B. A. Taylor.

WHAT HE THINKS OF HIS BARGAIN.

A Talk With The Man Who Bought The Cheap Buggy.

"How long have you had this surrey wagon?"
"O, about two years."
"What color was this cloth when new?"
"Blue, I think," (sort of milk color now).
"Had the tire set yet?"
"Yes; once."
"Do the fenders rattle?"
"Yes."
"Do the lamps rattle?"
"Yes, and one of the shafts warped away out of shape."
"What did you save above the price of a good rig, when you bought it?"
"Saved about thirty-five dollars."
"Spent how much for repairs?"
"About thirty."
"What have you got left?"
"Nothing."
"What are you out?"
"The whole amount, beside the worry, for I never went over a crossing in safety."
"Did you get this of F. A. Taylor?"
"Not much, but I will next time."

Will Not Carry Them Over.

There is no time in the whole year when you can buy boys suits for so little money as now. There is no place in the city where you can find a larger or more complete line than at our store. MOB LYNCHES A PREACHER.

Drag Him Out of Church, Kill Him and Mutilate His Body.

Lake City, Fla., July 5.—Wednesday night at Hope Henry, at a colored church five miles west of here, a party of men took Robert Bennett, a young colored preacher, from the pulpit, carried him a short distance off, and lynched him. When the body was found the brains were shot out, the throat was cut, and both ears were cut off. A protracted meeting was in progress at the church and the preachers and congregation had all gone to sleep waiting and watching with "mourners in trance" and it was just before daylight when the party entered and roused Bennett, who was asleep in the pulpit, and dragged him out over another preacher and took him away. His offense, it is said, was an assault upon a white woman in Suwanee county recently, and from there the lynching party is said to have come.

Saloon Compelled to Close.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—The first genuine test of the Nicholson temperance law came yesterday, and it was demonstrated that the liquor laws can be enforced under the new act. For the first time in the history of the city every saloon was closed tight on a legal holiday. The keepers obeyed the new law by removing all screens and obstructions, to allow the officers to see whether drinks were being sold. The saloonkeepers arranged for a test of the law by having one of their number who conducts an eating house in connection with the saloon to open his doors to restaurant customers. The law provides that eating houses shall be separate and the saloonkeeper was arrested. The law has also stopped the sale of liquor in drug stores.

THE SMALLEST GUNNER.

He Fired a Big Gun and Disconcerted a British Colony.

Cape Town, South Africa, claims the honor of giving birth to the smallest creature ever known to become a gunner in the Royal Artillery, or any other artillery in the whole world. At the Castle, Cape Town, there is a magnificent gun worked by electricity, used for giving the midday and evening time. One fine day all the military and civilians in Cape Town were astonished to hear the gun go off at 10:30 in the morning, an hour and a half before the proper time, 12 being the usual hour for firing. Messengers came from the general commanding the station, the brigadier major, commanding officers of each regiment and battery stationed in Cape Town, and from everybody interested, but the answer was that no person had been near the gun, nor had anybody interfered with the wires, battery or source from which it was fired. All the officials were fearfully puzzled at the extraordinary occurrence, but could give no explanation whatever. The general in command of the station became furious and said that there was mismanagement somewhere, and gave orders for a strict search to be made by the officials for the guilty party.

Search was made, but nothing resulted to throw any light on the extraordinary affair, although the greatest possible pains were taken to solve the mystery. They had practically given the search up, when suddenly the news came from the officials stating that the culprit had been caught and arrested. It seems the electric current for firing off the gun is supplied by the Royal Observatory of Cape Town, and goes there by means of an instrument known as a relay that is in the central telegraph office of the station, the distance being about 500 yards. The action of the current going through the instrument's main moves a sort of light tongue, which is very finely set, so fine that the least little thing would affect it. This forces the current directly into what they term the time fuses, which have the power of firing the gun at the Castle. On examining the instrument one of the officials found a big brown spider inside. It appears that while having an exploring trip around the instrument the unfortunate spider must have touched this tongue sufficiently to move it, and consequently it fired off the gun. The general commanding the station sent the spider to the Cape Town Museum, where he is now to be seen with a card underneath him entitling him the "Little Gunner," and giving a full account of his adventure with the Cape Town midday time gun, which proved his last adventure, however.

Double Murder and Suicide.

Meadville, Mo., July 5.—S. A. Fields, until recently editor of the Post, at Palo, Mo., cut the throats of his wife and baby with a razor yesterday morning and then ended his own life in the same manner. The bodies were found in a garden about two hundred yards from the residence of his mother-in-law, who lives near here.

Fields, his wife and little boy were visiting his mother-in-law, Mrs. William Thomas, two miles northeast of this place. They went out in the pasture in the morning, and the supposition is that Fields cut his little boy's throat, then that of his wife. No reason is given for the deed. A note was found on Mrs. Fields saying everything they had was to be left to her mother, Mrs. Thomas. It seems that Fields and his wife had planned the tragedy, for she went into the house after they went out and put on an old dress and then returned to the pasture.

Two Hurt in a Collision.

Decatur, Ill., July 5.—At a late hour Thursday night there was a damaging rear-end collision on the Wabash at Niantic, fourteen miles west of Decatur, resulting in serious injury to Engineer Edward Higgins and Fireman Frank Schmidt, both of Springfield. The Kansas City express had left Decatur over an hour late and was followed ten minutes later by an engine and caboose. The engine ran into the rear of the express, smashing the end of the sleeper, knocking the trucks from under the car and shaking up the passengers. The coal in the tender of the colliding engine was thrown on the engineer and fireman. They had to be dug out. Both were sent to the hospital.

CONGER GETS $140 FROM W. DINGMAN

AN INTERESTING COMMISSION CASE DECIDED AT LAST.

Alderman Sutherland Rides to Milwaukee and Back in Thirteen Hours and Twenty Minutes—Records Broken by Janesville Wheelmen—Brief Notes of City Happenings.

DAVID CONGER sued Winard Dingman to recover $140 of Dingman, being his commission on the transfer of Dingman's estate for city property. Judge Phelps rendering judgment some time ago in favor of the defendant, Dingman setting up that Conger did not assist him in making the transfer and was, therefore, not entitled to commissions. Judge Bennett, however, took a different view, and the defendant will now have not only commissions to pay, but the costs taxed in both trials. E. D. McGowan appeared for the plaintiff and Smith & Pierce for the defendant.

LOCAL cyclists broke all records yesterday. Alderman Orion Sutherland rode to Milwaukee and back, 149 miles, in 13:20. His first hundred miles was made in eight hours. The start was at 3:30 a. m. and one hour rest was taken in Milwaukee. Ned Whiton and Frank Sanner started for Chicago at 4:30 a. m. Sanner's tire broke near Harvard but Whiton reached the Palmer House in Chicago at 7:30 p. m. He passed two employees of the Janesville Barb Wire Co., also bound for Chicago, at Weststock. Will Pfennig made a mile in 2:18 in the Monroe handicaps.

FOURTH LEFT MANY IN BEDS OF AGONY

JANESVILLE'S RECORD OF IN-DEPENDENCE DAY WOE.

Ernst Schumacker, Willie Kaempfein, Allie Smith, Arthur Dilzer and Numerous Others Badly Injured by Accidental Explosions—Little Girl Covered with Carbolic Acid.

Ernest Schumacker, son of Henry C. Schumacker, of 307 Cherry street, is in bed today with his left arm and side badly burned. As for his face, it is full of blue powder dots. Ernest, with a score or more of companions were celebrating the Fourth with fire crackers and a small cannon. Ernest is about fourteen years old and had charge of the cannon. He was loading it from a magazine containing about a pound of powder, when one of the boys threw a lighted cracker, which exploded in the magazine right by the left side of Schumacker. Dr. C. L. Clark was called and found the flesh of the left arm shockingly torn. His side was blistered, the skin peeling off, while his face and hands were filled with powder. His injuries will lay him up for many days.

Crackers Afire in a Child's Pocket
Walter Kaempfein, the three year old son of Rev. G. Kaempfein, of St. John's church, had a pack of firecrackers explode in his pocket, setting fire to his clothes. The little fellow with his clothes all ablaze, ran about shrieking. A stranger passing grabbed him, tore his clothes off, and then carried him into his home. The little boy's body was badly burned, and his life was only saved by the stranger tearing off his burning garment.

Arthur Dilzer, the fourteen year old son of Nicholas Dilzer, allowed a cannon cracker to explode in his hip pocket, and as a result is nursing a badly burned leg.

Hand Torn By A Cannon Cracker
Rudolph Kneff, while exploding cannon crackers on the night of the third of July, allowed one to explode in his left hand. It will be a number of weeks before his hand will be of use to him. The palm was torn open and burned badly. Dr. J. B. Whiting dressed the wound and the young man celebrated the Fourth in pain.

While playing in the Court House park yesterday, an accident happened that may cause Allie Smith the loss of an eye. Some boys scattered a quantity of powder in the grass and set fire to it. At first it refused to burn and Allie Smith ventured nearer. Just then the powder went off, burning him badly about the face and scorching his hair. Dr. J. B. Whiting dressed the painful wound and the boy is now in bed at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith, 263 South Main street.

The two year old daughter of Herman Arndt, Chatham street, was severely burned by carbolic acid, the front of her body and her legs being covered with the fluid. The child got a hold of the fluid accidentally.

Ed. Tracy town of Center, had his Fourth of July spoiled by an accident on the 3d of July. He was working on a barn when a two by six timber struck him on the head making a long scalp wound. The wound is not dangerous.

BIG PARTY ENDED THE FOURTH.

Nearly Two Hundred Couples Gathered In the Armory.

One of the largest parties of the season wound up the Fourth in the Armory last night. It was given by Division No. 1, A. O. H. There were fully one hundred and eighty-five couples present and when Johnny Smith's seven men stopped for the supper interval, Milwaukee street suddenly became alive with bare-headed couples seeking a breath of fresh air and enjoying the moonlight. Supper was served at Watson's restaurant. The different committees were: Arrangement—John Heffernan, James Reilly, John Gleason. Floor—J. J. Connolly, R. J. Dunn, M. M. Malone, James Crowley. Reception—J. W. Hogan, M. M. Fardy, J. W. Callahan.

POINTERS FROM SPRING BROOK

FRANK VOSBURG has returned home from a visit with friends in Columbia.

Mrs. F. O. SAMUELS and sister Miss Bertha Kuehn have returned home after a week's visit with friends in Watertown.

B. N. SPICER helped celebrate the Fourth by starting his threshing machine on the flat. He has recently added a new stacker and will soon be ready for business.

THE Fourth was celebrated at Spring Brook if nowhere else. It began on the morning of the third and, on the Fourth the foot of McKey boulevard was alive with children, while dealers in fireworks had sold out everything in their store that would burn or explode.

FROM TURKISH BATH TO WEDDING

Rev. Dr. Halsey Summoned Abruptly to Tie the Nuptial Knot.

A couple who seemed in a great hurry called Rev. Dr. Halsey out of a Turkish bath Wednesday evening to marry them. They came from Rockford in the afternoon and when they learned the clergyman's whereabouts they sent a carriage for him. "It's a shame to be dragged out of a comfortable bed like this into a cold glance at the thermometer beside his chair which said 175 degrees above. Nevertheless he went and after he had made William Nichols and Mary Elizabeth Liddell husband and wife, he drove back to the Turkish bath and basked again in a temperature that would fry eggs.

Ewen-Boecher.

The marriage of George J. Ewen of this city and Miss Adele J. Boecher of Manitowish took place last Monday. The groom is in the employ of A. H. Sheldon & Co. of this city and the young couple will be at home in this city, after the fifteenth of this month.

PALMER'S OFFER WITHDRAWN.

New Hospital Will Be Purely a Private Enterprise—A Memorial of Its Projector.

The Palmer Memorial hospital may be open July 18, possibly not until July 22. At the meeting held in his office on Wednesday evening, Dr. W. H. Palmer heard the report of the committee appointed to confer with local physicians and then announced that he would withdraw the proposition made a few days before to open the hospital for the use of all local physicians.

Dr. Palmer now says that he will go ahead by himself and complete the hospital as a memorial to his father, and the plans adopted by his father will be followed. He stated emphatically today, that nothing would be done on his part to interfere with or injure in the least the management of Oak Lawn hospital.

WENT A FAST MILE.

A Well Known Clinton Horse Goes In 2:18 1/4

The Janesville crowd at the Clinton half mile track yesterday saw the fastest mile ever trotted there. MAN ON HORSEBACK CAUGHT THE THIEF

CROOK CHASED THROUGH MAYFLOWER PARK.

William Blackmore, of Chicago, a Boy of Sixteen, Snatches Mrs. Thomas Butters' Purse, and Is Pursued by the Angry Husband—George Trenwith and His Wild West Act.

William Blackmore, a Chicago sneak thief, was chased on horseback at Mayflower park yesterday by Thomas Butters, was arrested, and now awaits trial. Mr. Butters and wife were spending the day at Mayflower park, and Blackmore seeing Mrs. Butters in a crowd, made a successful grab at her pocket book. Butters mounted a horse and started after the young man, overtaking him at the insane asylum, just as he came into the road from the woods, but not until after an exciting chase. The pocket book, with a small amount of money and a certificate of deposit, was recovered.

This morning Blackmore said he was only sixteen years old; that he recently graduated from the Chicago high school, that his mother died three years ago, and that his father held a good position in Chicago. He did not want his people to hear of his trouble. He waived examination, and in default of $800 bonds was committed to await trial on July 11.

"Wild West" Tactics on the Fourth.

George Trenwith wound up his Fourth of July celebration at 11 o'clock last night, and the manner of his wind-up may land him in state's prison for a year or more. George went into E. J. McCue's saloon on North Main street, with his pocket full of stones. He attacked McCue, and undertook to demolish everything in sight. Chief Acheson captured him before much damage resulted. This morning, when brought into the municipal court Trenwith waived examination on charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, and his trial was set for July 11, his bail being fixed at $500. He was committed.

A fight took place in Herman Kath's saloon on River street, in which Charles O'Neill had his lip cut open by being kicked while down. He was taken to jail.

SUNDAY'S SERMON BY DR. TALMAGE

"THE GATES OF HELL SHALL NOT PREVAIL."

They Swing Inward—Society Gets a Scoring for Its Unchristian Forgetfulness—The Churches Willing, but They Can Not Stem the Tide.

NEW YORK, June 30, 1895.—In his sermon for to-day, Dr. Talmage chose a momentous and awful topic: "The Gates of Hell," the text selected being the familiar passage in Matthew 16:18: "The gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Entranced, until we could endure no more of the splendor, we have often gazed at the shining gates, the gates of pearl, the gates of Heaven. But we are for a while to look in the opposite direction, and see swinging open and shut the gates of hell.

I remember, when the Franco-German war was going on, that I stood one day in Paris looking at the gates of the Tuilleries, and I was so absorbed in the sculpturing at the top of the gates—the masonry and the bronze—that I forgot myself, and after awhile, looking down, I saw there were officers of the law scrutinizing me, supposing, no doubt, I was a German, and looking at those gates for adverse purposes. But, my friends, we shall not stand looking at the outside of the gates of hell. In this sermon I shall tell you of both sides, and I shall tell you what those gates are made of. With the hammer of God's truth I shall pound on the brazen panels, and with the lantern of God's truth I shall flash a light upon the shining hinges.

Gate the first: Impure literature. Anthony Comstock seized twenty tons of bad books, plates, and letter press, and when our Professor Cochran of the Polytechnic Institute, poured the destructive acids on those plates, they smoked in the righteous annihilation. And yet a great deal of the bad literature of the day is not gripped of the law. It is strewn in your parlors; it is in your libraries. Some of your children read it at night after they have retired, the gas-burner swung as near as possible to their pillow. Much of this literature is under the title of scientific information. A book agent with one of these infernal books, glossed over with scientific nomenclature, went into a hotel and sold in one day a hundred copies, and sold them all to women! It is appalling that men and women who can get through their family physician all the useful information they may need, and without any contamination, should wade chin deep through such accursed literature under the plea of getting useful knowledge, and that printing-presses, hoping to be called decent, lend themselves to this infamy. Fathers and mothers, do not be deceived by the title, "medical works." Nine-tenths of those books come hot from the lost world, though they may have on them the names of the publishing houses of New York, Chicago, and Philadelphia. Then there is all the novelette literature of the day flung over the land by the million. As there are good novels that are long, so I suppose there may be good novels that are short, and so there may be a good novelette, but it is an exception. No one—mark this—no one systematically reads the average novelette of this day and keeps either integrity or virtue. The most of these novelettes are written by broken-down literary men for small compensation, on the principle that, having failed in literature elevated and pure, they hope to succeed in the tainted and the nasty. Oh! this is a wide gate of hell. Every panel is made out of a bad book or newspaper. Every hinge is the inter-joined type of a corrupt printing-press. Every bolt or lock of that gate is made out of the plate of an unclean pictorial. In other words, there are a million men and women in the United States to-day reading themselves into hell! When, in one of our cities, a prosperous family fell into ruins through the misdeeds of one of its members, the amazed mother said to the officer of the law: "Why, I never supposed there was anything wrong. I never thought there could be anything wrong." Then she sat weeping in silence for some time, and said: "Oh! I have got it now! I know, I know! I found in her bureau after she went away a bad book. That's what slew her." These leprous book-sellers have gathered up the catalogues of all male and female seminaries in the United States, catalogues containing the names and residences of all the students, and circulars of death are sent to every one, without any exception. Can you imagine anything more deathful? There is not a young person, male or female, or an old person, who has not had offered him or her a bad book or a bad picture. Scour your house to find out whether there are any of these adders coiled on your parlor center-table, or coiled amid the toilet set on the dressing-case. I adjure you before the sun goes down to explore your family libraries with an inexorable scrutiny. Remember that one bad book or bad picture may do the work for eternity. I want to arouse all your suspicions about novelettes. I want to put you on the watch against everything that may seem like surreptitious correspondence through the postoffice. I want you to understand that impure literature is one of the broadest, highest, mightiest gates of the lost.

Gate the second: The dissolute dance. You shall not divert me to the general subject of dancing. Whatever you may think of the parlor dance or the methodic motion of the body to sounds of music in the family or the social circle, I am not now discussing that question. I want you to unite with me this hour in recognizing the fact that there is a dissolute dance. You know of what I speak. It is seen not only in the low haunts of death, but in elegant mansions. It is the first step to eternal ruin for a great multitude of both sexes. You know, my friends, what postures and attitudes and figures are suggested of the devil. They who glide into the dissolute dance glide over an inclined plane, and the dance is swifter and swifter, wilder and wilder, until with the speed of lightning they whirl off the edges of a decent life into a fiery future. This gate of hell swings across the Axminster of many a fine parlor and across the ball-room of the summer watering-place. You have no right my brother, my sister—you have no right to take an attitude to the sound of music which would be unbecoming in the absence of music. No Chickering grand of city parlor or fiddle of mountain picnic can consecrate that which God hath cursed.

Gate the third: Indiscreet apparel. The attire of woman for the last few years has been beautiful and graceful beyond anything I have known; but there are those who will always carry that which is right into the extraordinary and indiscreet. I charge Christian women, neither by style of dress nor adjustment of apparel, to become administrative of evil. Perhaps none else will dare to tell you, so I will tell you that there are multitudes of men who owe their eternal damnation to what has been at different times the boldness of womanly attire. Show me the fashion-plates of any age between this and the time of Louis XVI., of France, and Henry VIII., of England, and I will tell you the type of morals or immoralities of that age or that year. No exception to it. Modest apparel means a righteous people. Immodest apparel always means a contaminated and depraved society. You wonder that the city of Tyre was destroyed with such a terrible destruction. Have you ever seen the fashion-plate of the city of Tyre? I will show it to you:

"Moreover, the Lord saith, because the daughters of Zion are haughty and walk with stretched-forth necks and wanton eyes, walking and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet, in that day the Lord will take away the bravery of their tinkling ornaments about their feet, and their cauls, and their round tires like the moon, the rings and nose jewels, the changeable suits of apparel, and the mantles, and the wimples, and the crisping-pins."

That is the fashion-plate of ancient Tyre. And do you wonder that the Lord God in his indignation blotted out the city, so that fishermen today spread their nets where that city once stood?

Gate the fourth: Alcoholic beverage. Oh! the wine-cup is the patron of impurity. The officers of the law tell us that nearly all the men who go into the shambles of death go in intoxicated, the mental and the spiritual abolished, that the brute may triumph. Tell me that a young man drinks and I know the whole story. If he becomes a captive of the wine-cup he will become a captive of all other vices; only give him time. No one ever runs drunkness alone. That is a carrion-crow that goes in a flock, and when you see that beak ahead you may know the other beaks are coming—in other words, the wine-cup unbalances and dethrones one's better judgment and leaves one the prey of all evil appetites that may choose to alight upon his soul. There is not a place of any kind of sin in the United States today that does not find its chief abettor in the chalice of inebriety. There is either a drinking-bar before or one behind, or one above, or one underneath. These people escape legal penalty because they are all licensed to sell liquor. The courts that license the sale of strong drink, license gambling-houses, license libertinism, license disease, license death, license all sufferings, all crimes, all despoliations, all disasters, all murders, all woe. It is the courts and the legislature that are swinging wide open this grinding, creaky, stupendous gate of the lost.

But you say, "You have described these gates of hell and shown us how they swing in to allow the entrance of the doomed. Will you not, please, before you get through the sermon, tell us how these gates of hell may swing out to allow the escape of the penitent?" I reply, But very few escape. Of the thousand that go in nine hundred and ninety-nine perish. Suppose one of these wanderers should knock at your door, would you admit her? Suppose you knew where she came from, would you ask her to sit at your dining-table? Would you ask her to become the governess of your children? Would you introduce her among your acquaintanceships? Would you take the responsibility of pulling on the outside of the gate of hell while the pusher on the inside of the gate is trying to get out? You would not, and not one of a thousand of you would dare to do so. You would write beautiful poetry over her sorrows and weep over her misfortunes, but give her practical help you never will. But you say, "Are there no ways by which the wanderer may escape?" Oh, yes; three or four. The one is the sewing-girl's garret, dingy, cold, hunger-blasted. But you say, "Is there no other way for her to escape?" Oh, yes. Another way is the street that leads to the river, at midnight, the end of the city dock, the moon shining down on the water making it look so smooth she wonders if it is deep enough. It is. No boatman near enough to hear the plunge. No watchman near enough to pick her out before she sinks the third time. No other way? Yes. By the curve of the railroad at the point where the engineer of the lightning express cannot see a hundred yards ahead to the form that lies across the track. He may whistle "down brakes," but not soon enough to disappoint the one who seeks her death. But you say, "Isn't God good, and won't he forgive?" Yes, but man will not, woman will not, society will not. The church of God says it will, but it will not. Our work, then, must be prevention rather than cure.

Those gates of hell are to be prostrated just as certainly as God and the Bible are true, but it will not be done until Christian men and women, quitting their prudery and squeamishness in this matter, rally the whole Christian sentiment of the church and assail these great evils of society. The Bible utters its denunciation in this direction again and again, and yet the plety of the day is such a namby-pamby sort of thing that you cannot even quote Scripture without making somebody restless. As long as this holy imbecility reigns in the church of God sin will laugh you to scorn. I do not know but that before the church wakes up matters will get worse and worse, and that there will have to be one lamb sacrificed from each of the most carefully guarded folds and the wave of uncleanness dash to the spire of the village church and the top of the cathedral tower.

A cold winter night in a city church. It is Christmas night. They have been decorating the sanctuary. A lost wanderer of the street, with thin shawl about her, attracted by the warmth and light, comes in and sits near the door. The minister of religion is preaching of Him who was wounded

WHAT TO THANK GOD FOR.

"I have been a dyspeptic fifty years, thank God for it!" exclaimed an old clergyman. Why this burst of gratitude? Because his brothers had good digestions, which they ruined at last with high feeding, and all died of gout and kidney disease. He could eat but little, and so lived feebly—and long. His brothers did more work in their short lives than he in his long one.

But what of it? Who wants to dwell inside of an iceberg to keep from being sunstruck? We desire neither dyspepsia, gout, nor nervous prostration. Yet we Americans are getting to have all three with a vengeance. We work and fight for all we are worth to make money, (succeeding or failing as may be) and are then snuffed out early by some nervous disease or by quick consumption. Politicians, doctors, lawyers, ministers, teachers, business men—are taking that short cut to the grave. Why? How? Let a great Scotch physician (who went the same road himself two years ago) explain:

He says: "Nervous maladies are of modern origin. They arise from that almost universal ailment, indigestion, with its symptoms of impaired appetite, sickness, vomiting, flatulence, heartburn, acid eructation, colic, constipation, etc. The diseased stomach cannot supply the brain and nerves with the necessary pabulum; and then the liver, and finally the whole organism breaks down."

Then you have it—plain as a primer—the whole deadly process. Now it is to stop this business at its fountain-head, the stomach, that the Shaker Digestive Cordial has been prepared and placed before the public by the Shaker Community of Mt. Lebanon, N. Y. It is not a mere "tonic" or a sedative. It doesn't propose to dull the sense of disease but to remove the cause of it—indigestion, dyspepsia. It promotes a free flow of the natural digestive juices, abates inflammation of the mucous membrane, prevents fermentation, and sends the digested food on to nourish the body.

No, no; don't thank God for dyspepsia. You are not likely to, after a taste of it. Thank Him for a strong and capable stomach, sensibly used. Then thank the Shakers for a medicine to make it so.

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

for our transgressions and bruised for our iniquities, and the poor soul by the door said: "Why, that must mean me; mercy for the chief of sinners; bruised for our iniquities; wounded for our transgressions."

The music that night in the sanctuary brought back the old hymn which she used to sing when, with father and mother, she worshipped God in the village church. The service over, the minister went down the aisle. She said to him: "Were those words for me? 'Wounded for our transgressions.' Was that for me?" The man of God understood her not. He knew not how to comfort a shipwrecked soul, and he passed on and he passed out. The poor wanderer followed into the street.

"What are you doing here, Meg?" said the police. "What are you doing here tonight?" "Oh," she replied, "I was in to warm myself," and then the rattling cough came, and she held to the railing until the paroxysm was over. She passed on down the street, falling from exhaustion; recovering herself again, until after a while she reached the outskirts of the city, and passed on the country road. It seemed so familiar; she kept on the road, and she saw in the distance a light in the window. Ah! that light had been gleaming there every night since she went away. On that country road she passed until she came to the garden gate. She opened it and passed up the path where she played in childhood. She came to the steps and looked in at the fire on the hearth. Then she put her fingers to the latch. Oh, if that door had been locked she would have perished on the threshold, for she was near to death! But the door had not been locked since the time she went away. She pushed open the door. She went in and lay down on the hearth by the fire. The old house dog growled as he saw her enter, but there was something in the voice he recognized, and he frisked about her until he almost pushed her down in his joy.

In the morning the mother came down and she saw a bundle of rags on the hearth, but when the face was up-lifted she knew it, and it was no more old Meg of the street. Throwing her arms around the returned prodigal, she cried, "Oh, Maggie!" The child threw her arms around her mother's neck and said, "Oh, mother!" and while they were embraced a rugged form towered above them. It was the father. The severity all gone out of his face, he stooped and took her up tenderly and carried her to the mother's room and laid her down on mother's bed, for she was dying. Then the lost one, looking up into her mother's face, said: "Wounded for our transgressions and bruised for our iniquities!" Mother, do you think that means me?" "Oh, yes, my darling," said the mother. "If mother is so glad to get you back don't you think God is glad to get you back?"

And there she lay dying, and all their dreams and all their prayers were filled with the words, "Wounded for our transgressions and bruised for our iniquities," until, just before the moment of her departure, her face lighted up, showing the pardon of God had dropped upon her soul. And there she slept away on the bosom of a pardoning Jesus. So the Lord took back one whom the world rejected.

Honoring One's Parents.

It was an interesting and interesting group that were discussing all sorts of abstract subjects one day in the drawing-room of a house where all things that affect human welfare are brought up for study and investigation. The talk had turned on the utterance of some celebrated man who had declared that he was a good boy who always spoke with affection and reverence of his parents. It is all very well for children to honor their parents simply because they are such, but the mere fact of parental relation does not in our opinion furnish a full and sufficient reason in itself for enthusiasm unless it is backed by those sterling qualities that clear-headed, good-hearted, and honest youngsters can admire and respect. We think it is safe to say that if more men and women would make themselves worthy of the love and confidence of their children, they would be much more likely to get them. Little ones have extremely keen eyes and sensitive dispositions and temperaments. They know very well whether their parents are up to standard or entirely lacking in the qualities that make them worthy of esteem and confidence. It is scarcely worth while to argue with a child on such things. Love and respect can never be commanded or forced. If parents are honorable, upright and just in their dealings with and in the presence of their children, they will have little to complain of. Not long since a young man was arraigned before a judge in a Western State, and charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. The court asked how he came to fall into such ways. He appeared embarrassed and troubled; but the judge insisted on an answer, asking him directly how it happened that he thought such a course to be right. He finally admitted that he began such practices because he thought it was smart to do so, and, after some cross-questioning, said that when he was a youth his father was very fond of sharp practices in business, and generally managed to get the best of the bargain. He was tremendously elated over every success, and used to boast in the family how he got ahead of the man with whom he was dealing. The boy had followed the same course in playing marbles and trading with the boys. He seemed to think he had done a very bright thing when he succeeded in getting fifty dollars from a man on false pretenses. His moral sense was evidently not at all keen, and on his own showing he was under direct obligation to his father for teaching him the way to defraud his fellows. There is a very good and deep moral to this incident, and one that parents ought never to lose sight of. Whether they are setting a proper example before their children and teaching them to walk in the ways they should go instead of leading their minds to dwell on sharp tricks and smartness, is a matter of infinite importance.

Obstructions on the Highways

Are sometimes allowed by the authorities to remain too long, but when that important outlet to the refuse and debris of the system—the bowels—become obstructed, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters promptly "raises the blockade." This does, too, without creating any abdominal disturbance in the way of griping, an unpleasantness always produced by a drastic purgative. No permanent, decisive relief from constipation can be obtained through the agency of a violent cathartic. Mandrake, blue pills, salts and senna and calomel, while they evacuate the intestine, weaken and partly unfit for future usefulness. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, on the contrary, invigorates the whole abdominal region and promotes a regular secretion and flow of bile. Use this time honored remedy also in malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism, nervousness, in cases of debility, and for kidney trouble. It confers both appetite and sleep.

Reservations in sleepers secured in advance.

Often results in colds, fevers, rheumatism, neuralgia and kindred derangements. We do not "catch cold" if we are in good condition. If the liver is active, and the system in consequence doing its duty, we live in full health and enjoy life "rain or shine." To break up a cold there's nothing so valuable as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They keep the whole system regulated in a perfectly natural way. If we do not feel happy, if we worry and grumble, if we are morbid, if the days seem dreary and long, if the weather is bad, if things go awry, it is the liver which is at fault. It is generally "torpid." A common sense way is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. We generally eat too much, take insufficient exercise, by means of which our tissue-changes become indolent and incomplete. Be comfortable—you are comfortable when well. You'll be well when you have taken "Pleasant Pellets." No Constipation follows their use. Put up sealed in glass—always fresh and reliable.

BORT, BAILEY & CO.

A Great . . 1-2 PRICE Linen Sale.

15 Hundred Pieces of Linen will be placed on sale Saturday morning at 1-2 price.

The lot comprises TOWELS, TIDIES, NAPKINS, SPREADS, BUREAU COVERS, TRAY COVERS, SPLASHES, ETC., and many other kinds. We have decided to close out this lot at half price and the lady who comes Saturday will secure some great bargains.

We shall instruct our clerks to let every piece go at just HALE PRICE. We take the loss you get the benefit. This lot of goods will be displayed in our large front window, the prices will be marked in plain figures and you take what you want at just half.

We want you to know that we propose to make business hum during the usually dull month of July. If will do it. Whoever heard of such an offer on linens as we here make to you. It means a loss to us of many dollars. You take the goods and are pleased. We take the loss for advertising purposes, so that you will always know that when our firm make you an offer you will come for it.
